

Alexandra Androusou, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor in Teaching Methodology in the Early Childhood Education Department of the University of Athens, Greece. She studied in Athens and Paris (Phd in Educational Sciences - direction Psychology (Sorbonne- Paris V)). Since 1997 she is member of the five member scientific committee in charge of the program "Education of children of the Muslim minority in Thrace." www.museduc.gr. From 2009 -2017 she was the coordinator at the Greek Open University in the post graduateUnit "Ethno-cultural Differences and Social Inequalities", as a coordinator since 2009. From March 2016 to October 2018 she was vice chairman of the Scientific Committee for the Support of the Education of Refugee Children of the Ministry of Education, Research and Religious Affairs in Greece. Also from October 2015 to the present day with a group of the Early Childhood Education Department students, she is in head of and educational internention at the Refugees Camp of Eleonas, in Athens, for the children of the refugees.

Her research and writing interests focus on minorities and education, teacher education and teaching practices. He also deals with the production of educational material in electronic and conventional form either for children or for teachers (www.kleidiakaiantikleidia.net). For more information: http://www.ecd.uoa.gr/?page\_id=2190